Peru

With astonishingly varied landscapes, stunning scenery, compelling history, and a legacy of fascinating cultures, Peru has gained notoriety as the crown jewel of South America's travel destinations for good reason.

Experience the stunning natural and cultural wonders of South America through a personalized luxury vacation to Peru from award-winning travel designers who prioritize your comfort, style and personalized touches, every step of the way.

From the ancient Incan city of Machu Picchu, tucked away in the majestic Andes Mountains to the intriguing and mysterious Nazca Lines to the glistening Lake Titicaca, to the vast, diverse Amazon rainforest and back to the Lima, the gastronomical capital of the Americas - Peru is a destination for travel lovers, foodies, and nature enthusiasts alike.

BOOKS

Turn Right At Machu Picchu by Mark Adams

The author recounts a fascinating and funny account of his journey through some of the world's most majestic, historic, and remote landscapes guided only by a hard-as-nails Australian survivalist and one nagging question: Just what was Machu Picchu?

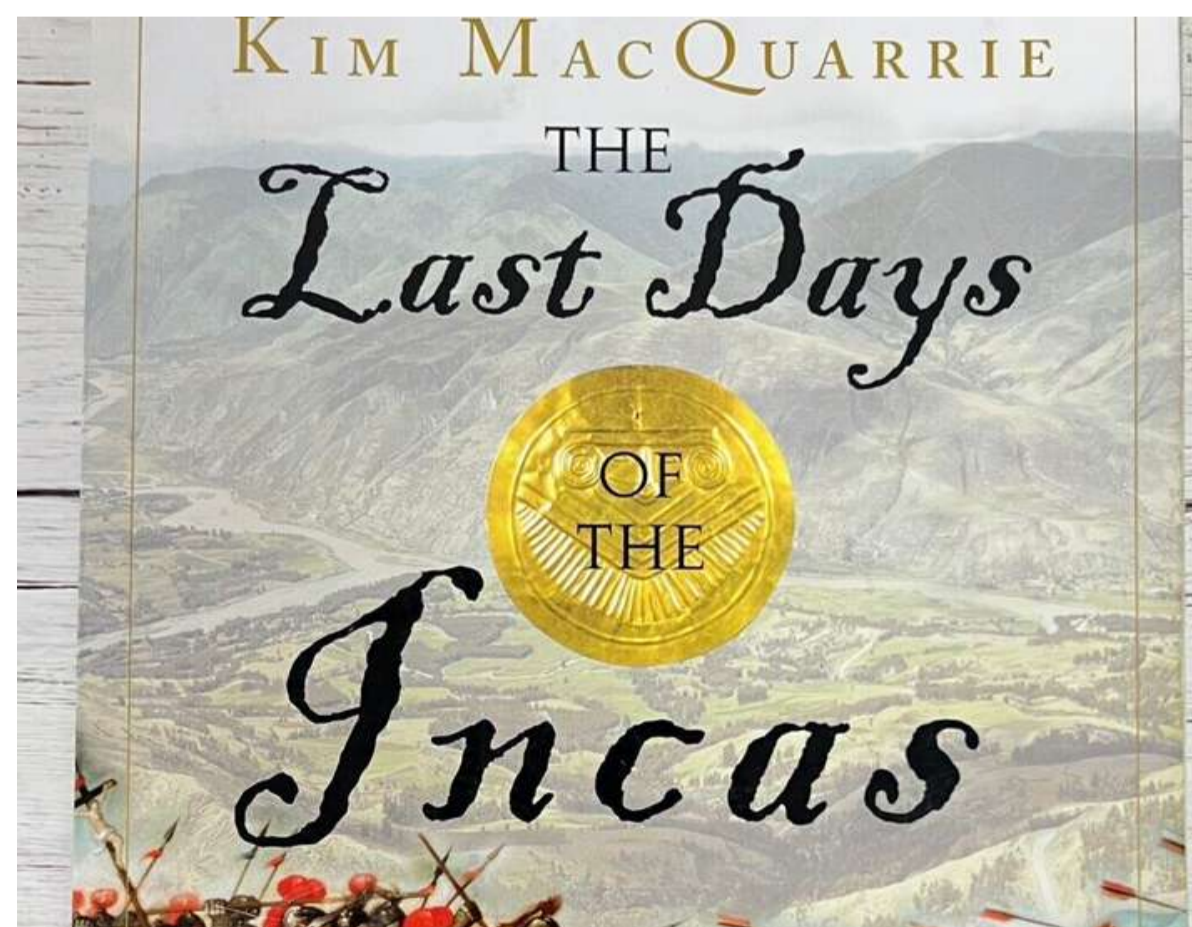

The Neighborhood by Mario Vargas Llosa

A thrilling tale of desire and Peruvian corruption swirls around a scandalous exposé that leads to murder written by one of the most significant Latin American personalities of his generation.

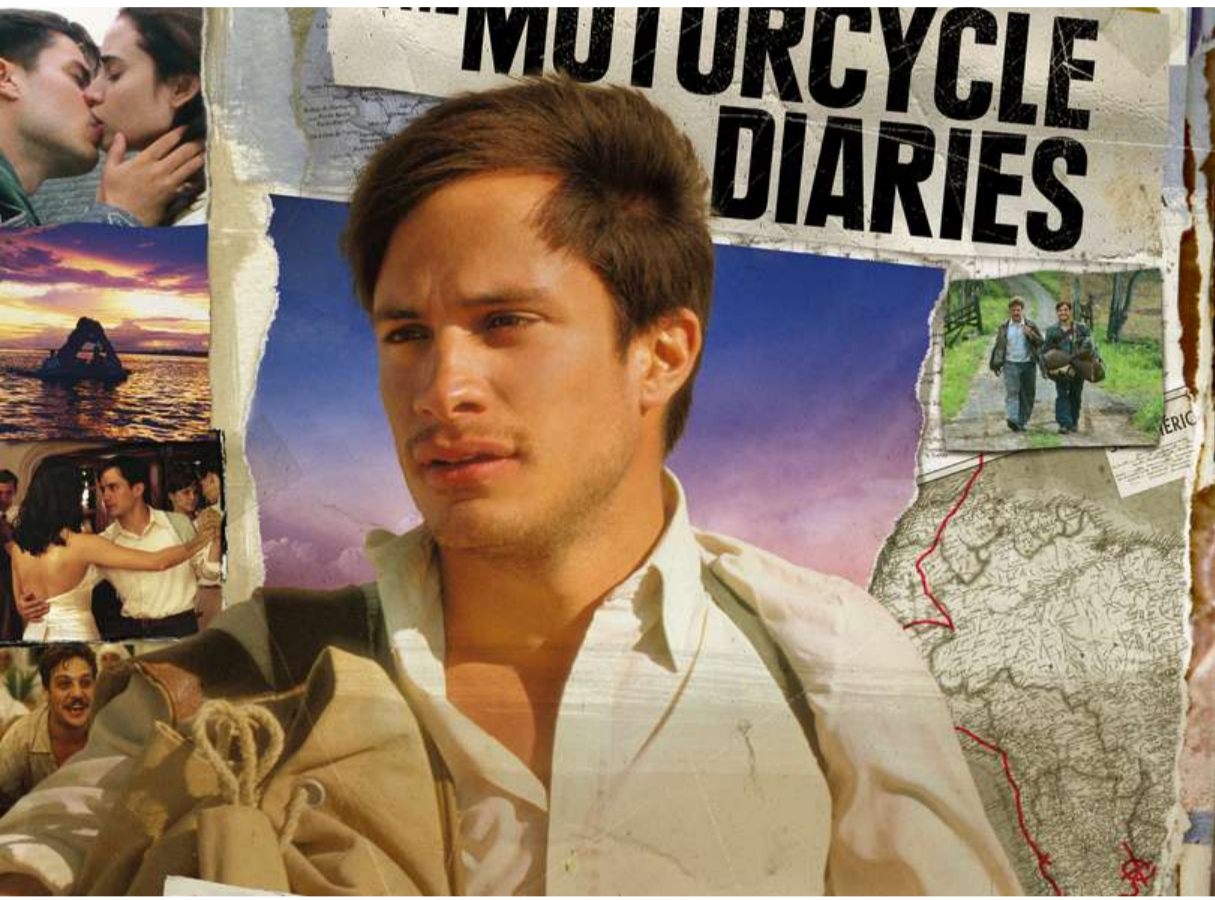

The Last Days of The Incas by Kim MacQuarrie

The Last Days of the Incas is among the most powerful and important accounts of the Spanish conquest of the Inca Empire, of the modern search for the Incas' lost Amazonian capital of Vilcabamba, and of the discovery of Machu Picchu.

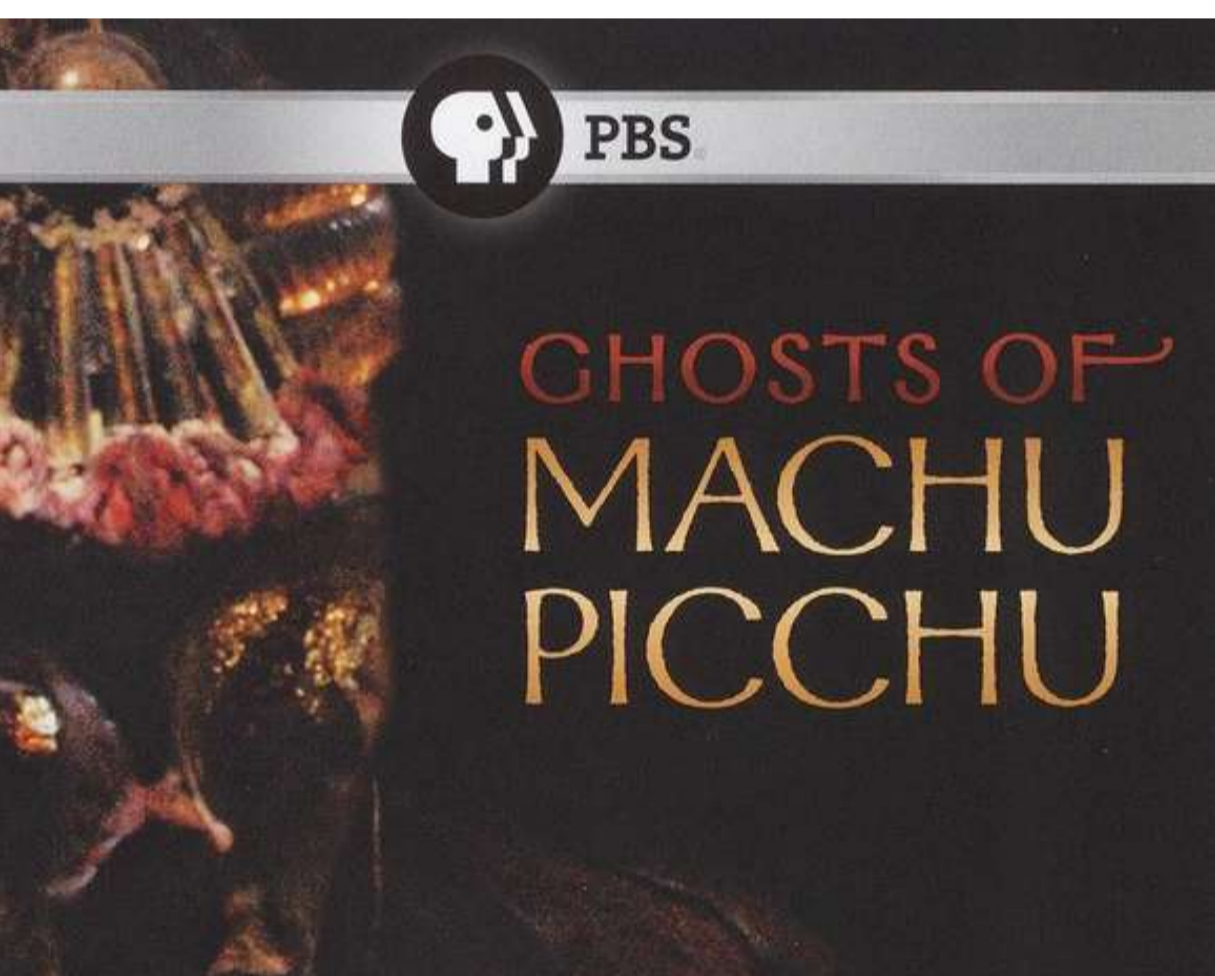

MOVIES

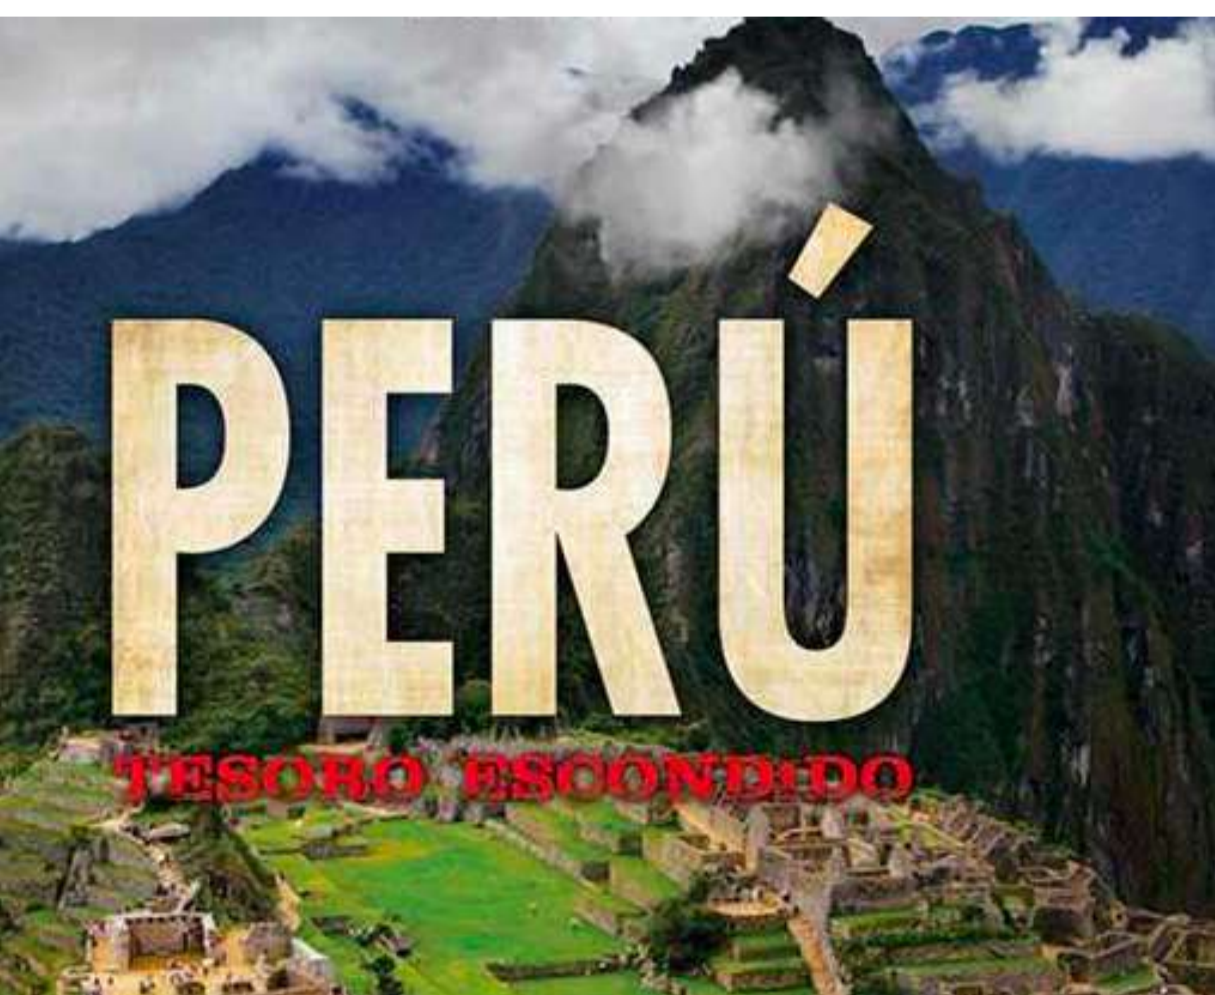

The Motorcycle Diaries (2004)

Based on a true story, this inspiring adventure traces the youthful road trip of two revolutionary friends: "Che" Guevara (Gael García Bernal) and Alberto Granado (Rodrigo De la Serna) to the open road on an old motorcycle for a journey that takes them from Argentina to Peru in 1952.

The Ghosts of Machu Picchu (2010)

A special from the PBS series NOVA, a group of archaeologists journey to Machu and investigate areas of the structure that haven't been touched since the Incas built it. They also embark on a "trail of clues" that initially surfaced in 1911, with explorer Hiram Bingham's discovery of the site itself.

Peru: Hidden Treasure (2017)

The production shows a tour of the Amazon, the Andes and the Peruvian coast, where you can see destinations such as Machu Picchu, the Colca Canyon, Lake Titicaca, the Nasca Lines, Kuelap, the Amazon River; besides the flora, fauna and the renowned Peruvian gastronomy.

Lima

Altitude: 0 m (0 f)

The capital of Peru, often referred to as The City of Kings, is only capital of South America with unforgettable ocean views. With fair weather for the most part of the year, you are sure to be delighted with its vibrant people, exquisite cuisine, and cultural heritage.

RESTAURANTS

Maido 🥕 🌿 🌾

The fusion of Latin American and Eastern cuisines leads to an exciting and unusual menu. The 12-course 'Nikkei Experience' degustation is predominantly fish-focussed: dishes such as Paracas scallops with green butter beans and miso feature alongside crab dishi and tapiocas. The beef cheek is also not to be missed, served with tsukemono and a cloud of jora corn. Round off the marathon meal with the surprising and delicate medley of lucuma ice cream, topped with soy sauce and macambo foam.

Street San Martín 399, Miraflores, Lima

Isolina 🥕

Isolina is a tribute to the spirit and flavors of our beloved taverns of yesteryear; to that Peruvian kitchen at home and to the forgotten recipes in old notebooks. A relaxed atmosphere makes us a space to eat, drink and have a good time, where spontaneous laughter and the freedom to eat as everyone wishes are celebrated.

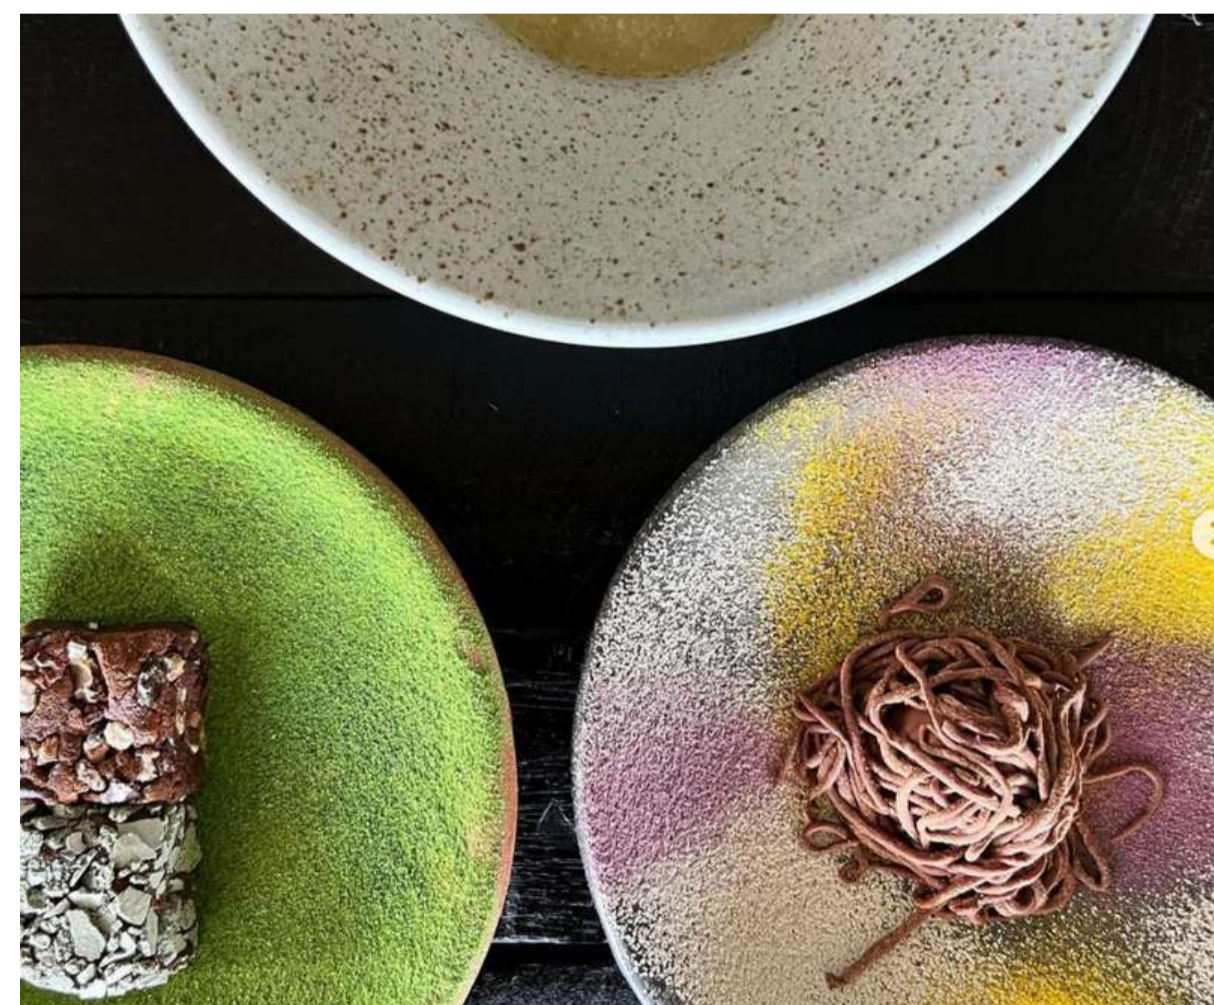

Avenue Prolongación San Martín 101, Barranco, Lima

Central 🥕 🌿 🌾

Chefs Virgilio Martínez and Pía León's flagship restaurant, Central, is an ode to Peru in all forms. The dishes celebrate the unique landscapes, history and traditions of their homeland by using an abundance of locally sourced produce.

Astrid y Gastón 🥕 🌿 🌾

The godfather of modern Peruvian cuisine, Gastón Acurio presides over a restaurant empire spanning the globe, but it all started 20 years back with pastry chef wife Astrid Gutsche at this eponymous establishment (albeit in a different location to now). A unique three-century-old colonial mansion setting adds a wow factor to the à la carte and tasting menus, which focus on Peruvian flavours. Acurio takes traditional dishes such as guinea pig and gives them the haute-cuisine treatment and Gutsche (Latin America's Best Pastry Chef 2015) showcases cacao and tropical fruits in her desserts. Astrid y Gastón topped the inaugural Latin America's 50 Best Restaurants list in 2013 and Acurio went on to win the 2018 Lifetime Achievement Award at The World's 50 Best Restaurants.

Avenue Paz Soldán 290, San Isidro, Lima

La Mar 🥕 🌿 🌾

The brainchild of Peruvian culinary godfather Gastón Acurio, La Mar brings the best from Peru's Pacific waters to the table daily. The pioneering cevicheria, sat in the heart of Lima's upmarket Miraflores neighborhood, regularly features on Latin America's 50 Best list. As you'd expect, there's a dazzling array of ceviches to choose from, but La Mar is only open between 12pm and 5:30pm each day to ensure only the freshest produce is served. And you best get there early unless you don't mind standing in line as it's no reservations and always a popular choice for Limeños. The size of the menu might be overwhelming, but you can't go wrong with the classic ceviche made with catch of the day. And for the full Lima experience, it must be matched with at least one Pisco Sour.

Mayta 🥕 🌿 🌾

MAYTA, which means 'Noble Land' in Aymara, one of the native languages of the high plains, is an expression of contemporary Peruvian gastronomy based on using local ingredients to create traditional dishes with a modern touch. Two dishes that stand out are their arroz con pato (seasoned rice with duck) and ceviche amazónico (Amazonian-style ceviche, a dish made with raw fish 'cooked' in citrus).
